Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 19 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Remaining settled and dry.

This Evening and Tonight:
Staying dry overnight, with plenty of clear skies, particularly in the south and east. Another cold night with light winds brings a risk of frost, however, less widespread than recently. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Tuesday:
Cold start with clear skies in the southeast, then largely dry with sunny spells and cloud bubbling up throughout the day. Into the afternoon, the odd isolated shower is possible. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Largely cloudy on Wednesday with some scattered showers. Skies clear afterwards, for fine and dry conditions into Thursday and Friday. Overnight frosts remain likely. Windier in the south by Friday.
